regarding procedure for recognition of an academic position "docent" for Department of Anaesthesiology, Emergent and Intensive medicine, Medical University of Plovdiv, published at the State Newspaper N 56 from 16.07.2019 r

Single candidate – d-r Georgi Angelov Pavlov

Dear colleagues,

There are documents presented to me, for preparing of statement regarding a competitive procedure for choice and recognition of an academical position "docent" for Department of Anaesthesiology, Emergent and Intensive medicine for the Medical University of Plovdiv in the specialy of Anaesthesiology and Intensive medicine for the same named department.

The documents consist of 26 pieces, all in consent to the rouls for the mantioned procedure and giving sufficient information for preparing an analytical statement.

General data

D-r Pavlov is born in 1978. In 2002 he has finished his higher medical education at the Medical university of Plovdiv. Immedeatelly after, he started to practice as a physician at the General hospital in Smoljan and in 2004 started to practice as an anaesthesiologist at the same hospital. By the year 2007 he moved to Plovdiv's Multiprofile University Hospital "St.George" for continuing his theoretical and practical education as an anaesthesiologist. He is doing this same job at the same place now too.

Education and practice

In 2002 he has finished his higher medical education, getting a degree "magister in medicine". By the year 2012 he has passed the state examina and have got all the rights as a "specialist in anaesthesiology and intensive medine". By the year 2014 he deffended successfully a PhD thesis entiteled "Sepsis – nirtitional and metaboloc support", after that he has got the scientific degree "doctor in medicine". Meanwhile he has participated on 5 scientific national and international projects. The entire practical time untill now is 17 yrs 3 months, of wich more than 16 yrs are in the field of anaesthesiology and intensive medicine.

Scientific indicators

From the whole number of scientific publications presented to me for analyse I recognize 36 papers as “real publications” – a PhD thesis, other 14 published in a magazines with references, 13 published in a magazines without references, 1 printed as a monography, 1 published as a chapter in a monography with few authors and 6 published in a books with article compilations. As a “scientific activities”, but not as “real publications” I recognize 32 case reports, case series, observation reports etc, told as oral and poster presentation in different congresses and conferences.

There is a citation information given to me for 13 citation, most in SCOPUS and WEB SCIENCE.

D-r Pavlov has pointed out personal contributions to medical science and practice in number of 29, separated in 3 main groups: scientific, metodological and an expertal.

In all the documents I can't find an information regarding a personal or combined impact factor of the candidate as well.

Teaching activities

There are information given for teaching activities with students and residents, presented as follows: 600 hrs practicals with students, 78 hrs lectures with students, 143 hrs – examina time, 180 hrs – elective with students. I find this teaching activities sufficient .

Physician activities

They are on a daily basis performed and I know d-r Pavlov as an excellent physician – anaesthesiologist and intensivist.

Summary: analyzing all the data presented, the entire point's sum of the candidate is 952.5, much more than the necessary number required for getting the position he is candidating for. That's why I'm convinced to propose to the jury to give and recognize the academical position “docent” to d-r Georgi Angelov Pavlov, MD, PhD.

Sincerely

Prof. Platikanov
